

To store an array in a MySQL database via Rails:

- set the array field as a string data type
- execute the following command on the array before storing:
serialize -> variable names -> Array
- Note: you have to use the symbol version of the variable name